

News Release

31 March 2011

Cobham Wins £8M Orders for Counter IED Technologies

Cobham has been awarded orders worth £8 million for the supply of Counter Improvised Explosive Device (C-IED) equipment to undisclosed NATO nations.

Cobham has developed a range of innovative technologies and products, which help to protect soldiers of the International Security Assistance Force (ISAF) in their search for Improvised Explosive Devices (IEDs).

“This is another example of Cobham enhancing the operational capability of NATO forces and keeping troops safe, based on the deployment of state-of-the-art technology developed using our own private venture funding,” said Fred Cahill, vice president of Cobham Antenna Systems. “Cobham’s dismounted, vehicle and robotic C-IED technologies will position us to compete for opportunities worth in excess of £100 million over the next five years.”

Work under these contracts will be delivered during the second and third quarters of calendar year 2011.

About Cobham

Cobham’s products and services have been at the heart of sophisticated military and civil systems for more than 75 years. Keeping people safe, improving communications and enhancing the capabilities of land, sea, air, and space platforms. The Company has three divisions employing more than 11,000 people on five continents, with customers and partners in over 100 countries and annual revenue of some £1.9bn / USD $3 billion.

About Cobham Antenna Systems

Cobham Antenna Systems is a world leader in the design and manufacture of communication systems and antennas for aircraft, ships and vehicles. Cobham’s innovative communication, navigation, jamming, electronic warfare, telemetry and radar antennas serve all major commercial aviation manufacturers and operators, major defence contractors, emergency response organisations and law enforcement agencies with high speed data, voice and video.

News Release

-ends-

Contacts

Media Relations

Greg Caires

+ 1 703 414 5310

greg.caires@cobham.com

Investor Relations

Julian Wais

+44 (0) 1202 857998

julian.wais@cobham.com